The principal business of the Historical Society, of the Confederate, Veterans, and the frenzy and fury of the Daughters, of the Confederacy, seem to be directed mainly toward a new and fictitious history of the war and its causes, incidents and results; but in this they are so heavily handicapped by the official Records of the Rebellion, and by other incontrovertible documents and known facts, that their efforts will of any permanent results if the truth of history, be kept constantly before the the children and young people of the land, and their efforts to permanently influence the minds of unenlightened mankind will fail as

We do not know Williams, or his people, but an uncle came down from Middlesboro, and took his remains to that city. He was a man about 20 years old, stout, and robust. He left a note saying that he intended to do the act, telling all goodbye. We are told that he tried to procure opiates from various people, and had also tried other places to get firearms. This is the first case of suicide that we remember of having been committed in this city.

John A. Black, President A. M. Decker, Vice-President
J. A. McDERMOTT, Cashier.

I solicit your support and influence in my race for the Republican nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 34th Judicial District of Kentucky, embracing the counties of Knox, Whitley and McCreary.

I was born, reared and educated in Whitley County, Kentucky and I have been engaged in the practice of law in this Judicial District for more than fourteen years and I feel that those who know my life, character and legal attainments believe me qualified to fill the high office to which I aspire, and did I not feel that I could truly serve the real and best interests of the people of this District I would not be a candidate.

I was solicited before the last primary election for the nomination of county officers, to become a candidate for a county office in Whitley County upon the B. & M. ticket, and I was assured by several of the workers and leaders of that ticket that I could secure a nomination without opposition. I declined to accept, and became a candidate for the nomination for County Attorney subject to the action of the Republican party. I was defeated for the nomination. All the nominees of the Republican party were opposed at that election by a B. & M. ticket, and I am now at this time campaigning in Whitley County in behalf of my opponents in the primary and the other Republican nominees.

I given the nomination of the Republican party for Commonwealth's Attorney of this District I promise a thorough and energetic campaign in the entire District in behalf of the Republican nominees of Kentucky.

I shall thank you for any support you may be able to give me in this race. W. R. HENRY.

Famous Medicine, Tanlac,
Draws Ingredients from Distant Points

Louisville, March 17th, 1915.
 L. T. Cooper, the man who electrified the larger cities with his philanthropic, health theories and medicine, is now meeting hundreds daily in Louisville and explaining the nature of his celebrated preparation, Tanlac.

To a group of friends at The Seelbach, where he is stopping,
 Mr. Cooper stated that the medicinal elements or properties,
 which go to make up his medicine, Tanlac, came from many remote sections of the globe. The Alps, Apennines, Pyrenees, Russian Asia,
 Jamaica, Brazil, West Indies,
 Mountain States near the Rocky Mountains, Asia Minor, Persia,
 India, Eussia, England, France,
 Germany, Mexico, Colombia and Peru were among the points he mentioned as furnishing the ingredients for the premier preparation.

In his principal laboratory, the roots, barks and flowers of the medicine in its rough, is assembled under the personal direction of a German chemist of note and skillfully made to obtain of the high state of efficiency that is shown by the uniform preparation, Tanlac.

In sterilized bottles, made expressly for the purpose, Tanlac is placed, labeled, inspected and then shipped out over the world where the demand requires.

Mr. Cooper, having made an extensive study of catarrhal affections, was asked to express himself upon that subject. He said:

"Most of the so-called stomach,
 liver and kidney troubles are due almost entirely to a catarrhal inflammation of those organs. The constant coughing up of mucus, dull, throbbing headaches, pain in the pit of stomach, and the persistent susceptibility to coughs and colds, are common symptoms
 from which so many suffer.

"Tanic, the preparation I am introducing to combat this condition, preserves your health,
 gives you renewed energy, brightens your spirits, lengthens your life and is an unmistakable, unfailing comfort to the thousands who suffer from catarrh and its distressing consequences.

Tanic can now be bought in Barbourville Kentucky at the Herndon Drug Co.

The Secret
of Success

Genuine Merit Begun to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever tried to reason why it is that certain products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain: the article did not fulfil the promise of the manufacturer. It is a pity that more particular medicine.
 A medicinal preparation that has real curative value, almost sells itself. It is an endless chain system of remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited by those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says:
 "Take for example, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for years and years and never hesitate to recommend for in almost every case it gives excellent results. It is one of my customers' best remedies for kidney trouble, and I know of has so large a following of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr.
 Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact that it finds almost every wish in relieving kidney,
 liver and bladder diseases,
 corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the urine and which causes rheumatism."

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root, by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co.,

 ten cents, also mention The

That Tired Feeling
Do You Continually Feel
Sluggish, Disinterested?

It is generally agreed by experts in this country and Europe
 that calomel has a very violent effect on the system. This accounts for the familiar disagreeable feeling accompanying a dose, and the weakened condition following it.

Liv-Ver-Lax is a harmless vegetable compound, that is a mild, but effective substitute for calomel. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect of calomel. Its splendid value has brought it into such wide use that in some States it has almost entirely replaced calomel.

Just try Liv-Ver-Lax once,
 and you'll never use calomel
 again. Insist on the genuine, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by Loss by Forest Fires.

Forest fires in the United States have caused an average annual loss of 70 human lives and the destruction of $25,000,000 worth of timber.

Wilhelm II. and the house of Hohenzollern.

The family of the German emperor William II takes its name from castle of Zollern, or Hohenzollern, built at the beginning of the 9th. century by Thasso of Barchardinger, a Swabian count.

The castle is situated on a ridge of Zollern 1 1/2 miles south of Hechingen. The first counts of Hohenzollern were Barchard and Wozel. They are mentioned as having fallen in a party lead in 1061. The two sons of Frederick III, inherited the titles and estate of their father. Conrad III, established the Prussian line and his brother Frederick IV the Swabian. The Prussian line gained in influence and was raised to the princely rank in the person of Frederick V, and the Swabian line in its two branches, Hohenzollern and Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen was also raised to that rank in 1623 and 1633 respectively. In 1701 the elector of Prussia, Frederick III, became the first king of that state.

From the establishment of the kingdom the Prussian state began to gain importance and Frederick the Great, against whom nearly all the states of Europe were arrayed at one time or another by his success, assured for Prussia an important place in Europe.

But Prussia's greatest enemy was Austria. The great Bismarck knew this and seized an opportunity in 1866 to make war on that state completely defeat her at the battle of Koniggratz after that Prussia has been regarded as the natural leader of the German states. In 1871, under William I, Bismarck completed the union of the North German States and his master, William I, king of Prussia, became, also, emperor of the new German empire. Bismarck's genius and the resentment of the German states toward France made the union possible and when Prussia declared war on France in 1870 she found herself supported by the other north German states.

The present king-emperor William II. was born in Berlin in 1859 and ascended the throne in 1888.

In person he is amiable, just and very popular with his people.

He is a great believer in the doctrine of the "Divine Rights" of kings and possesses great ability to govern and especially, he is noted as an organizer of government departments. He has built a great German navy and his military system is the model for the nations. He has greatly enlarged German influence abroad and German has become a colonies in the Far East, in Africa and in America. The German school system, also, is a wonderful organization and the German people are, perhaps, the best educated people in the world. Concerning German's connection with the present war.

It is generally admitted that she considered herself forced into it through political reasons rather than because of any desire on her part but it is true also, perhaps, that to German militarism and the consequent competition in armament among the nations may be traced the primary cause of the war.

W. J. Cole.

BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY CORRESPONDENCE

Rules For Correspondents

Here are ten rules for country correspondents. They were prepared by an experienced newspaperman. Cut them out and keep them. Then try to make your next letter to the Mountain Advocate conform with all of the rules:

1. Do not address via. Do not write Mr. & Mrs., but Mr. and Mrs. not Mr. or Mrs. but Monday or Saturday.
2. Leave space between lines for correction or additions.
3. Give both initials. Write C. H. Evans instead of Mr. Evans or Mr. C. Evans.
4. Write important subjects fully. Do not dismiss the death of a well known pioneer in half a dozen words, but write something of interest concerning him. If suicide or murder give all the details you can get.
5. Have verbs agree with subjects. Don't say Mr. and Mrs. B. was but Mr. and Mrs. B. were. Mr. and Mrs. B. may be one scripturally. But they are two grammatically.
6. Don't use nicknames. Use James Brown instead of Ed. Brown, Edward instead of Ed.
7. Give the time in an item. Mr. Brown was in Lexington, the news being down, are incomplete. Tell when things happened.
8. Divide words correctly. Don't divide such words as enough, enough.
9. Don't send articles reflecting upon the character of individuals or firms. The newspaper is not looking for libel suits; neither does it care to right your personal wrongs.
10. Write your name and town at top of page. Last but not least important rule of all. It is most essential that the newspaper know from whom the news is received and from what place.

Important suggestions, though not a rule: Carefully look over your news after it is published and note what changes had to be made.

while the ten rules given above are important as relating to written news, yet there is one rule supercedes them all—Telephone relays important news at once.

throughout the last few years, and other corporations which had a franchise tax had been treated in the same way for many years and consequently were not paying this tax. In payment of the tax was due the state and the counties and cities taxes. During my campaign for governor I said I would do the people's bidding I would study and take notes on this subject and I found that the franchise tax of these corporations was not fairly assessed, not according to the law I would use the law as a correct way of doing it. I did not therefore exist at the time.

Afterwards, when upon my official duties as auditor I caused a careful examination to be made of the reports made by all corporations for assessment purposes to ascertain whether these corporations in the past had been fairly assessed for the purpose of coming out the truth as to the real value of the character of property in the state.

I had a commission carefully prepared to do this and when the time came to make these franchises had a bureau of statistics on this board.

The result of the investigation I made of this subject showed that most of the companies doing business in the state had previously been fairly assessed, but the large corporations of this state those which were large and political franchises, and large ones, under assessed (either by design or through oversight) one of the most flagrant examples of favoritism extended by the legislature in office was that of terded by the companies that the property of the railroad companies was assessed at more than its real value by the present board, and that the assessment against farm lands and city lots must be rated before the assessment against the property of the railroad companies could be increased.

I do not believe the farm lands of this state are generally assessed for taxation and valuation as low as one-half of their real value. If the value of the farm lands of this state should be estimated by capitalizing the net income derived therefrom on the basis of a per cent, which method is employed to find the value of railroad property, it would be demonstrated that real estate at present is necessary at approximately the full value thereof. In other words, if the same mode or method of ascertaining value should be applied to find the value of real estate it would be shown that real estate is assessed at its full value. The court preliminarily to issuing an injunction, required these companies to pay on a valuation recently in excess of any sum they had paid on in previous years. The approximate increase in the amount of taxes paid by these companies in the year 1912 over the year 1911 was about 250 per cent. In the years 1912 and 1913 the sum was collected from these companies. During the three years of my administration these four companies have paid to the state 50 per cent more in taxes than was paid by them during a like period of time under my administration. My mind was not unduly prejudiced. These suits now pending when decided will determine finally the amount of taxes these companies will have to pay annually to the state in the future, and the question of the real value of this property will no longer be open to discussion. It is important that the question of value of these franchises should be definitely determined and forever settled, because the belief has prevailed in this state among all the people for many years that the big corporations of the state were always active in politics of the two dominant parties of the state, with the end in view of being favored in the assessment of their franchises. With franchises of corporations assessed at their real value, as they should be, the corporations will be taken out of politics in this state, as they ought to be.

As auditor of the state for the past three years I have also been a member of the sinking fund commission of the state and, having information gained while acting in that capacity, I believe I am thoroughly familiar with the fiscal affairs of the state.

I am in favor of, and, if elected, will advocate the passage of a law that will require that all state supplies used at all state institutions to be purchased by the competitive bidding system, and that the lowest offered for supplies furnished all institutions be accepted, and I believe the state could easily save $100,000 a year by inaugurating such a system.

I am in favor of and will work for an elected governor, the establishment of a system of taxation that will tax and just to rich and poor alike and that will cause the lifting of personal property for the state of taxation, which now, because of the rate of taxation in many taxing districts, does not pay any taxes at all and that will place the burden of taxation where it belongs on those best able to bear it. I am in favor of such legislation as will in a constitutional amendment necessarily to put a fixed and definite limit upon the rate of taxation in Kentucky, a step which I believe will cause our officials to follow a policy of economy and efficiency in the handling of the people's funds.

I am opposed to the convict labor system and favor the abolition of the present contract system and the elimination of the competition with organized labor that is the direct result of it. I am in favor of the use of convicts to produce what is needed by the state institutions and of the purchase of a farm on which they may labor in the open air to produce the goods needed in these institutions.

I am in thorough sympathy with the farmer, having been a farmer myself on a farm all my life. I will do all I can as governor for the agricultural interests of Kentucky and the men and women engaged in it.

As long as the farmer is protected every other interest in the state is prosperous and all her people share in disaster to them as we have in this prosperity.

If I am elected governor I will do all I can to further the good road movement and all that is possible. I will secure a liberal appropriation for the schools and their continued improvement.

If the people want for governor the state a man who will devote his time and what talents he may have entirely to their welfare, without regard to any future political preference (for I believe there can be no higher office, certainly no higher honor, than the governorship of the state, in which I was born and reared), then I want the nomination. There is no reason why the officials of the state should fail to give to the state the same devotion to duty as is exacted by any business corporation of its employees, and I promise the people not only to devote that time they give to their interests but so far as I may have the power to see that every other employee in executive departments of the state government do the same. A full day's work for a full day's pay will be the motto followed in the governor's office if I am elected, and it will apply to all the other departments over which I may have even the semblance of control.

(Chen County Student.)

The superintendent's Convocation held here last week was a grand success. There were not only members here from all over the State, State Superintendent Hamden, Senator Brock, of the 32nd District, R. S. Eubank, Mrs. Corn Wilson Stewart and others besides the most of the 'Superintendents' from the sixty nine counties had speeches for us.

Each Congressional District gave a reception to their respective superintendents on Wednesday night; delicious refreshments were served and everybody seemed to have a jolly time.

Sawyer A. Mills, spokesman for the Eleventh District, delivered an excellent address. W. W. Evans gave the reply, one that was excelled by none of the County Superintendents.

The noted lecturer, Frank Dixon, was here Thursday night and lectured to about fifteen hundred people.

Danville Ky. March 16, 1915.
Work has just begun on the rebuilding of the big gymnasium of Centre College, of this city, that was burned in November.

The foundation and some of the walls of the old building are uninjured. The debris has now been cleared away. Lumber, steel, brick and stone for the new building are ready to be put in place. The work is being pushed steadily forward so as to be completed by early summer.

It will be remembered that the gymnasium building that was burned in November was itself a new building, not having been formally thrown open for use. It was the largest and most complete building of the kind in Kentucky, and was equaled by only a few in the South. It is being rebuilt on the same plan, except for a for minor improvement.

The increased attention now given to religious work at our colleges is illustrated by a successful series of religious meetings that have been held at Centre College and the Kentucky College for Woman in this city.

The Rev. Thomas White, the Presbyterian student-pastor at the University of Indiana, conducted these meetings.

Every morning for a week he spoke to the students and K. C. W. and of Centre Conference at their respective churches and on moral and religious subjects that especially concerned young women and young men. He also held conference periods during which he talked personally with individual students. He believed that that the result of these meetings will be a permanent strengthening of the educational vitality of the two educational institutions.

UNION REVIVAL.

The union festival at the First Methodist Episcopal church is progressing nicely. Rev. Clark is preaching the old time Gospel and Prof. Owen is singing it. There were three bright conversions last night. The people are interested and the outlook is good for a precious Meeting. All are cordially invited to attend these services at 8:00 in the afternoon and 7:30 at night.
